Introduction:

Our website is an e-commerce site named OILO HAIR that provides various kinds of hair care products like shampoos, hair serum, hair dye, oil. The objective of the website is to provide the customer ease while purchasing goods, and he can buy all kinds of hair care products from one place. User Interaction on the Website, in addition to all this, the website involves user interactions as well like login, sign-up, home page, product pages, cart page, and checkout page. This fulfills our milestone requirements since we need pages, navigation, forms, JavaScript, and data handling.

Objective:

- 1) Buy All Your Hair Care Product: You Won't Need To Shop In Multiple Stores Or Websites To Purchase Hair Care Products.
- 2) Quick & Easy Shopping: You Can Easily Navigate Your Hair Care Products And Have Your Hair Care Products In The Same Checkout Process.
- 3) Save Time And Money: By Purchasing All Of Your Hair Care Products At Once You Only Pay For One Shipping Cost (and therefore can have them delivered all at once).
- 4) Create A Routine Using Hair Care Products: Due To The Low Price Of Your Hair Care Products And Their Availability You Can Easily Create A Routine With Hair Care Products.

Problem Statement:

The biggest problem in the hair product market today is that it's broken up. It is almost impossible for customers to find what they want all in one spot. Instead, customers are forced to waste time and effort moving between multiple locations, websites, or drug stores to accomplish their hair routine.

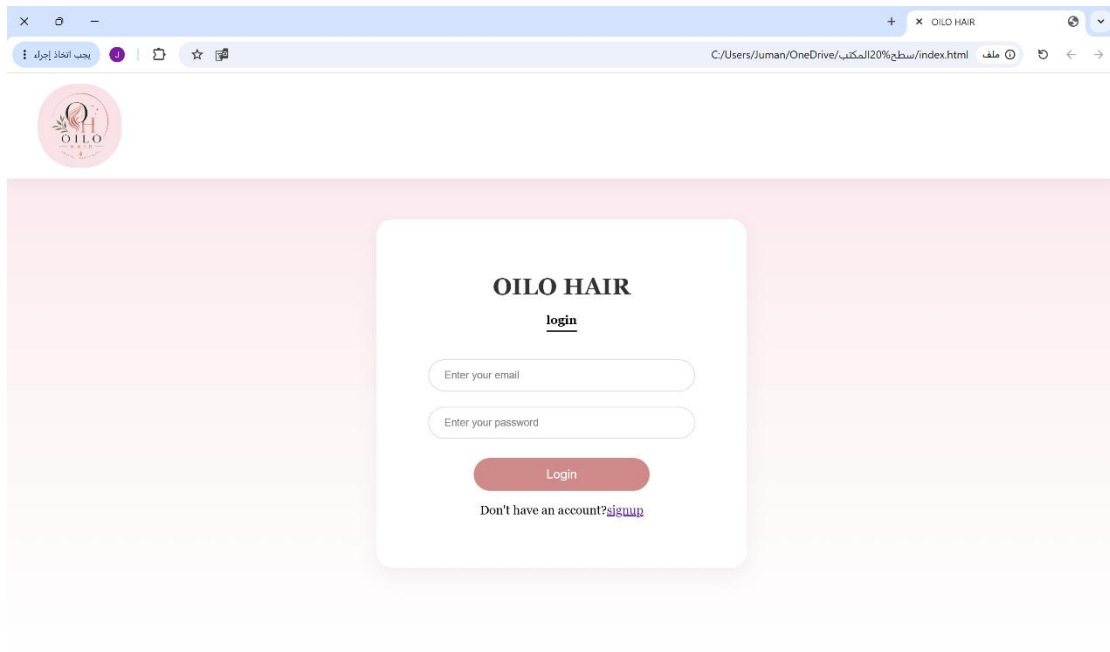

This creates a frustrating situation for customers; multiple shipping charges, varying delivery times, and the constant effort of tracking orders from different sources all contribute to customer dissatisfaction. There is an excellent opportunity in the market for one single dependable place to consolidate all these needs, making the purchasing process easy, fast, and cost efficient."

Solution:

OILO HAIR addresses this market fragmentation by providing a comprehensive, all-in-one e-commerce platform for hair care to eliminate the fragmentation of hair care products in the market. Products range from essentials to professional-grade at competitive prices while providing an easy-to-use online shopping interface for customers to have seamless shopping experience by providing easy navigation, secure customer profile, and an efficient checkout process.

With one shopping fee, synchronized shopping times, and an easy shopping process to help the consumer save time and money, OILO HAIR makes hair care both affordable and accessible by allowing customers to create their hair care routine in one place
